New Hampshire Citizens for a Responsible Energy Policy

What We Do

To us, climate is a moral, economic and national security issue.

Global warming is local, it's here now, it threatens New Hampshire's economic and community health and we believe the next president needs to have an effective plan. Because of the presidential primary, New Hampshire is in a unique position to set the terms of national discourse.

To this end, the Coalition:

1. Educates New Hampshire citizens about the local and global impacts of global warming through programs such as the Carbon Coalition Speakers Bureau, and
2. Promotes national and local action on climate change solutions through the Town Meeting Campaign and the 2007 Climate Change Conference.

The Coalition also facilitates a blog, The Political Climate, on climate change and the NH presidential primary.

Dr. Barry Rock from the University of New Hampshire presented "The Science of Climate Change" to the Derry Rotary Club in November. Since September members of the Carbon Coalition Speaker's Bureau have presented to over 80 audiences across the state.
